EMPLOYMENT

MAY 2017

SERMO (WORLDONE) Front End Web Developer

Created rapid prototypes of new design ideas, working closely with the design team to execute beautiful and functional interfaces for a doctor social media site. Created interfaces for customer portals and user facing web apps which allow doctors to rate and see ratings on drugs, share anonymized case questions, and collaborate on treating patients.

2015

WORKOPOLIS UI Developer

Working on legacy and new .NET platforms I'm responsible for UX and UI work on the Workopolis website.

2014

THE SECRET LOCATION Wordpress Developer

I was responsible for a custom Wordpress theme for Big Brother Canada 2. This custom theme used Grunt scripts and Jade templates to compile a static site which interfaces with various dynamic components to offer a full, dynamic web experience that scales rapidly using Amazon AWS services to deal with sudden load spikes. I also created a custom theme for YTV's The Next Star.

2013

KLICK INC. Web Developer

My .NET knowledge is applied here toward creating beautiful solutions for many of our pharmaceutical and non-pharma clients. I've created back-end systems for internal use by clients and public-facing websites using angular.js, foundation, Twitter Bootstrap and many other technologies and frameworks.

GRIP LIMITED Web Developer

As a web developer I worked on back-end and front-end code for fortune-500 clients in many industries. We made award winning products and while working at Grip I watched the company grow from 85 employees to over 150, with a significant growth in the Interactive department.

WHATEVER SOLUTIONS & MEDIA INC. Lead Programmer

As lead programmer at a small marketing firm in Peterborough I enjoyed the best of both worlds. I got to wear many hats, programming some days and designing user interfaces others. The expectation was that I should rise to any occasion and excel at providing the solution that best suits our clients' needs.

2005

FREELANCE Web Developer, Illustrator

While attending Trent University I took on some freelance web development and illustration jobs.
